Update: VFC Vaccine Orders

Dear VFC provider,

During the past month, our program has received an increased number of vaccine orders as a result of our program's transition to a national distribution system. We are making every effort to process your orders as quickly as possible in order to ensure that you receive your vaccine shipment on a timely manner.

As you place your VFC vaccine order, please keep in mind the following:

Refrigerated Vaccines: The average time for the processing of your vaccine orders and delivery of vaccines (except Varicella and MMRV) from McKesson, our national vaccine distributor, is 15 business days. Please ensure that your order is placed with sufficient vaccine in stock to prevent your clinic from running out of vaccine while you wait for your vaccine order.

Varicella and MMRV: Varicella and MMRV vaccines are shipped to your practice directly from the vaccine manufacturer, Merck & Co. Please allow at least 5 weeks for the delivery of these vaccines from the time your order is submitted to VFC. In anticipation of the unavailability of MMRV by July 2007, providers should transition to submitting orders for MMR and single antigen Varicella instead of MMRV, as this product will not be available through Merck for the remainder of 2007. Detailed information will follow in the upcoming week.
